What people write about us

„Vsitor, eine Band zum Entdecken. Das in Berlin lebende Schweizer Duo spielt und singt auf seiner ersten EP sterbensschöne Popsongs. Glockenhafte Melodien fliessen auf technoider Breitleinwand, fallen in tiefe Löcher und erstehen zum Summen einer mikroskopischen Homemade-Elektronik wieder auf.“ Christoph Fellmann (Tagesanzeiger)

„Vsitor überraschen mit spektakulär schönen Songs, in denen selbst kreierte Sounds auf klare Pop-Texturen treffen. Eine coole Mischung. Das zeigt ihre Debut-EP. Der Elektro-Pop von Vsitor überzeugt mit seiner Klanglichkeit, seiner Atmosphäre und der einnehmenden Stimme von Lea Maria Fries. So zugänglich die Songs sind, so eigenständig und geheimnisvoll entfalten sie ihre Aura. Die EP ist das überzeugende Statement einer jungen Band, die ebenso am Experiment wie am zeitgenössischen Pop interessiert ist.“ Pirmin Bossart, Musikjournalist

„Lyrics telling the fusion of stars or the collision of atoms set the scale for Vsitor. The Berlin-based duo whose music seamlessly moves between whisper-in-your-ear intimacy and super-nova-like magnitude presents a vision comprised of genuinly original components. Their sound is vastly influenced by working with all sorts of self-made electronic gear in combination with the standard repertoire of guitar, piano, drum computer and analogue synthesizer. Watch out for Vsitor as they are taking their bedroom productions to the big scene!“ Simon Borer, Red Brick Chapel

"When starstruck words meet the sound of crackling self-made electronics and airy guitars you’re right in the middle of VSITOR’s universe. The Berlin-based singer/producer-duo writes songs that take you places and then gently settle down in the back of your head – like a vsitor from outer space." Simon Borer, Red Brick Chapel

„The debut release from Vsitor impresses a series of scenes exposing love and exploration on an alien world, the mostly barren landscape offering an intriguing, galactic-influenced introspection interspersed with bursts of scientific exhilaration.“
Jamie Downes, A Lonely Ghost Burning
